

Understanding your needs.

The law relating to trust and probate disputes is highly complex, but our specialist team of solicitors have the necessary expertise to provide sensitive, pragmatic and strategic advice at what can be an extremely distressing time.

Our experience in this area allows us to understand your needs as each dispute requires a personal bespoke approach. The team includes recognised specialists in this field of law including members of the Association of Contentious Trust and Probate Specialists (ACTAPS) so you can be assured you are receiving the correct advice you need from the outset.

The team is one of a very small number that specialises in resolving trust and probate disputes and we have handled some of the most high profile recent cases in this area of law.

Disputed trust and estates specialists

Our specialist team provides services for individuals, trustees, executors and other professionals involved in administering an estate or a trust. We work efficiently and with integrity to minimise our costs and will always consider mediation or settlement at an early stage in appropriate cases to ensure that a cost effective solution can be found.

Our wider network of litigation funders mean that we have the flexibility to support our clients funding needs and in appropriate cases we can work under fee-capped structures, fixed fees, pay-as-you-go, deferred payment plans, damaged based assessments or conditional fee (no win no fee) agreements.

We offer a free, no obligation 30 minute consultation on any disputed trust and probate matters to assess your case and make suggestions on how we could advise you to reach the best possible result.
